DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This is a typical, one-room school that has been converted into a private residence. It is a one-story, frame structure, with a steep "A" gable roof. When the building was used as a school, it had a central door in the south (ungabled) side that was covered with a shed-type vestibule. This part has been removed, but the central door remains and it has a lattice-type, entrance portico. The stone foundation has been cemented over, and the original German siding is now covered with aluminum siding. There are new asphalt shingles on the roof, and a modern brick furnace flue sits against the exterior west wall. Despite these modifications, the house retains its one-room school appearance.
